

CONTENTS

Introduction to the Special Issue

Australia-South Asia: Contestations and Remonstrances

Maryam Mirza, Marie Herbillon and Valérie-Anne Belleflamme (2-5)

Articles

Place, Object, Text: Anglo-India in Australasia

Ralph Crane and Jane Stafford (6-19)

Jugglers and the Colonial Encounter: The Experience of Indian Show People in Nineteenth-Century Australia

John Zubrzycki (20-31)

‘Wars Don’t End When the Fighting is Over’: Adib Khan’s Homecoming and the Australian Literature of the Vietnam War

Geoffrey V. Davis (32-45)

The Retrieval of Women’s Voices, Resistance and Empowerment in Anna Yen’s Chinese Take Away

Thamir Az-Zubaidy (46-56)

New Zealand: A Stepping Stone for Anglo-Indians Destined for Australia?

Robyn Andrews (57-74)

India Radiating, Australia Disposing? Nuclear Waste and Indigenous Resistance

Paul Giffard-Foret (75-89)

Book Review

Mark Froud, The Lost Child in Literature and Culture

Nataša Kampmark (90-91)